24 ARE KILLED AND 27 ARE INJURED—SECOND ATTEMPT ON SUNDAY FAILS

Airship Makes Sudden Dash City Dropping Bombs

Raid Lasts Only Minute and Half—Fog Interferes With Work of Aerial Guard—Supposition is That Germans Have a Superiority in Airplane Later—Visit Came as a Surprise to Parisians

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
PARIS, Jan. 30.—Twenty-four persons were killed and twenty-seven injured in the Zeppelin raid over Paris Sunday night, according to an official statement given out today. Ten of the wounded were placed in hospitals due to the severity of their hurts.

PARIS, Jan. 30.—(10 p.m.) At 9:40 tonight firemen dashed through the streets sounding warnings of another Zeppelin raid. In a few minutes the capital was entirely dark. Crowds remained on the boulevards watching the skies for the appearance of a German aircraft.

The Place de l'Opera, which is generally brilliantly lighted was suddenly thrown into darkness, and policemen carrying poles hurried through the street extinguishing the gas lights.

The Zeppelin came to the outskirts of Paris, but before reaching the city itself, turned back. Soon after eleven o'clock tonight the lights were again turned on.

PARIS, Jan. 30.—A Zeppelin, which passed swiftly over a section of Paris last night, dropping about twenty great bombs, which killed 24 persons and injured 27.

The raid lasted about one minute and a half, while in the first half of the Zeppelin to Paris, on March 21, 1915, four of these aircraft were over and in the neighborhood of Paris for two hours. They came then under conditions, they being then visible in a clear sky.

Last night only one Zeppelin was seen, and it was seen only for a few minutes. It appeared before the belief that the Zeppelin was making a reconnaissance trip, and the supposition is that the Germans have seen a similar operation on a larger scale.

French aeroplanes searched the remote air regions above Paris and the Zeppelin was seen to drop several of the bombs. The edge of the Zeppelin was seen to drop several of the bombs. The edge of the Zeppelin was seen to drop several of the bombs.

THE DAILY POEM

LOOKING BACKWARD AND
That I look backward now
From the valley sweetest flowers grow.

Though young eyes cannot see That I am a vision front and of name and fame and gleaming star and opportunity.

We who look backward know
That griefs beset the path too young to go.

Protest them as we may;
That have deferred and disappointed meetings off.

Like ghostly shadows creeping off Akin their way.

We who look backward know
That time's the only teacher that can show.

Or help us see That storm and sunshine both were here.

The very way the Master meant
For you and me.

We who look backward know
That all the tide of promise does not flow.

But why lament?
We've learned what's best in life to prize.

To walk to love and sympathy
And be content.

GET SPECIAL MENTION

London, Jan. 28.—Further official dispatches of Sir Ian Hamilton, issued last night, dealing with the operations of the allied armies against the Germans on the Gallipoli peninsula.

Four Canadian who served in the British armies, and two of them were killed. The names mentioned are: Lt. H. W. Mann, of the Royal North Lancashire, who was killed in October. He served for several years in the Northwest Mounted Police.

Charles A. C. Rogers, Royal Yorkshire and The Buffs, was killed.
He graduated from Kingston in 1915.

Vegetable.

My little boy stayed out rather late,
on returning home I said to him:
John, go right upstairs, immediately
he began to cry and asked if I was going to be spanked, I said, "Why no, for that would do no good." Then he said, "Wait, mother, dear, I don't care what you do to me, since you don't hurt my feelings."

Edith was suffering with a cold, her eyes watering constantly. She repeatedly used her apron for a handkerchief, she ran to her mother saying:
"Mamma, won't you tell me what I am crying about?"

A friend of mine who was just about to be married heard her two small nephews discussing the coming event.
One said: "Paul, what does it mean that Aunt Mrs. is married? Does it mean that her's dead?" "No," Paul answered, "of course not, he's just got a man to cook for."

U. M. M. Vancouver.

"Mamma, cried my little 3-year-old girl, I started to make my doll a bonnet and it's come out all wrong!"
E. P. L. Watskevitch.

My sister and I went, one afternoon,
to call on a neighbor. Her 3-year-old Jack came to the door. "I asked
"In your mamma home?" I asked.
"Yes," said Jack. So we stepped into the library.

Jack had disappeared, we supposed to call his mother. We waited some time. We could hear his mother stirring about upstairs. After a bit Jack came into the room.

"I don't believe your mamma knows
we're here," said my sister.

"Why, she won't care," was Jack's confident answer.

QUAINT SAYINGS OF CHILDREN

A WELCOME LETTER.

Sir,—We read your "Quaint Sayings" with interest, and, as we have four little ones, ranging from eight to three in age, we are often amused and cheered by their quaint remarks. I can think the enclosed sample worthy of repetition. They usually might come from:

Phyllis and Edith, aged five and six respectively, were out of doors playing one day. Edith, the more timid of the two, sitting upon a fence, looking on the wall, and, as a tone of fear, said, "Oh, my! look out! There's a big on the wall." Phyllis, the younger, glanced at the walled fence and with a disgust air remarked, "That's not a wall; it's a fence; can't you see the fence?"

Appropriate to the festive season, Mrs. McClung was talking the story of the "Nativity" to my little girls and had got as far as the baby Christ being born in a manger in a stable, when one of the children interrupted with "That's a fairy story; we know all about that!"

It happened last Christmas.
Jackie, upon being questioned as to what he had heard at Sunday school, replied, "Oh, they said we had to bring back whistles, for we had sandwiches." Upon further inquiry, we found it was "sandwiches" that was being discussed.

A friend, smiling with us, was lamping, loudly, and upon being questioned as to the reason by one of the children, explained that she had several curses on her foot. Phyllis, evidently disgusted by her veracity and with an air of disgust said, "Well, maybe you'll tell me how they get the corn in the foot?"

"We Irish, said three, on her own initiative, concluded her prayer with "Please, God, don't let the house go up in fire." She recently a neighbor of ours had the misfortune to have a fire at his core. He was heard to talking about the incident, and, angrily cited in mentioning the neighbor's name, "The house has forgotten to say his prayers!"

Wishing your "Quaint Corner" much success, as something that tends to create interest in child life is so commendably, very sincerely, Miss Edith Spencer.

Vegetable.

My little boy stayed out rather late,
on returning home I said to him:
John, go right upstairs, immediately
he began to cry and asked if I was going to be spanked, I said, "Why
no, for that would do no good." Then
he said, "Wait, mother, dear, I don't
care what you do to me, since you
don't hurt my feelings."

Edith was suffering with a cold, her eyes watering constantly. She repeatedly used her apron for a handkerchief, she ran to her mother saying:
"Mamma, won't you tell me what I am crying about?"

A friend of mine who was just about
to be married heard her two small
nephews discussing the coming event.
One said: "Paul, what does it mean that Aunt Mrs. is married? Does it mean that her's dead?" "No," Paul
answered, "of course not, he's just got
a man to cook for."

U. M. M. Vancouver.

"Mamma, cried my little 3-year-old girl, I started to make my doll a bonnet and it's come out all wrong!"
E. P. L. Watskevitch.

My sister and I went, one afternoon,
to call on a neighbor. Her 3-year-old Jack came to the door. "I asked
"In your mamma home?" I asked.
"Yes," said Jack. So we stepped into the library.

Jack had disappeared, we supposed
to call his mother. We waited some time. We could hear his mother stirring about upstairs. After a bit Jack came into the room.

"I don't believe your mamma knows
we're here," said my sister.

"Why, she won't care," was Jack's
confident answer.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Owing to the splendid response by the people of Edmonton to the offer of Barrie's High Class Furs at such extremely low prices, instructions have been received by Mr. Savigny, local manager, from the head office, to continue the RETIRING FROM BUSINESS SALE until the last day of February, when the store will be closed and the fixtures sold. Watch the papers for prices on the balance of this stock that will mean a saving from fifty to seventy-five per cent.

night before the meeting broke up. The committee in charge of the arrangements is to be congratulated on the success of their efforts. J. K. Knott, president of the local union, was chairman. The feature of the evening was the singing of a number of patriotic songs by Chas. E. Burdick, a returned soldier, whose songs most of which were his own compositions, were enthusiastically received. In the evening of the prize for the best contribution of the evening, he was given first prize, while the second prize went to Mr. L. A. Knott, who designed the audience with a number of songs of unusual merit. The Dunn, violinist, was heard to advantage in a number of pleasing selections. A boxing exhibition was given by Private Egan and Mr. J. H. Dunn. There were many other good songs and recitations all of which added to the enjoyment of the evening. The refreshments were served by the staff of A. B. B. an apprentice member of the union.
